Vaccination is a safe and effective form of protection against severe COVID-19. Individuals living with a serious mental illness are at higher risk of severe illness from COVID-19.

There are an estimated 950,000 individuals living with a serious mental illness in Texas. Individuals with serious mental illness experience increased barriers to vaccination.

Protect yourself and your fellow Texans. Find a vaccine provider near you.